RESIDENCE HALL IS FORMALLY OPENED

MANY SEE NEW HOME LAST NIGHT

MANY THERE LAST NIGHT

Several Hundred Maryville People Admire And Compliment New Building At Formal Opening.

The official stamp of approval has been placed upon the Residence Hall, both by the Board of Regents and the citizens of Maryville. The citizens, several hundred of them, placed their approval seal upon it last night at the formal opening of the residence hall. The Board officially approved it this morning in their meeting when they settled up with the contractors.

From 7:30 until 9:30 last night at the formal opening Maryville people wandered through its rooms and corridors and examined every nook and corner of the new building, and all seemed to lack adequate expressions of praise upon the beauty, coziness, efficiency, and detailed appointments of the new home for the girls. Music was furnished during the opening by the College orchestra and punch was served at the third floor stairway landing by College girls. The punch bowls were arranged upon two tables, and each was banked with a mass of fruits. Dancing was enjoyed in the sun palor on the second floor.

Mrs. Mary Blake Woodson, feature writer for the Kansas City Star had a write-up in last night's issue about the opening and a picture of the new building, and a picture of Mrs. Sarah P. Campbell, house-mother.

The following is Mrs. Woodson's article:

The state teachers' college here tonight will open its new quarters for women, known as the "women's residence hall," It is a 3-story and basement building, comfortable, well appointed and embodying features which get away from the bleak rows of beds and the idea of discomfort usually associated with the term "dormitory," The housing is economical, too, and that's an advantage. The building will accommodate 130 students, ten employees, a housemother and a resident nurse in its seventy-five sleeping rooms.

The cafeteria, dining room and kitchen are locatel in the basement. These are the special domains of Miss Mary Wooldridge, youthful, but expert dietitian, whose particular job it is to see that all meals are planned scientifically anl without waste. She has a chef and two assistants under her direction.

Dining Room Seats 300

The dining room has cretonne-hung windows, stain-proof tables and dishes bearing on each piece the seal of the Maryville state teachers' college. It seats 300, and can be shut off in sections for more private functions. The waiters are boy students of the college. The adjoining cafeteria serves breakfast and luncheon to students of both sexes at very reasonable prices. The big kitchen is the last word in modern equipment for speed and cleanliness in preparing meals and has every convenience imaginable.

On the first floor, besides bedrooms, there is a big living room with a smaller reception room on either side. The bedrooms on the second floor are either single or in suites of two. The woodwork of the building is white enamel, with mahogany finished doors. Much of the furniture was made by students in the manual arts department of the college.

Kitchenette On Each Floor.

Each floor is equiped with one or two kitchenettes containing small sinks, electric stoves and a built-in china cabinet housing necessary utensils and dishes. Here fudge parties and other spreads may be prepared. Here also, electric irons and neat little ironing boards that fold back into the wall are for use in the constant washing and ironing and pressing necessary wherever a flock of girls congregates.

The third floor has a 3-bed "hospital" in charge of a trained nurse, so the sick in the building can be properly looked after and two rooms are set aside as "guests rooms."

It would seem that everything that could possibly be thought of for comfort and welfare of women students has been put in the building and the students may have and enjoy all these things for $45 a quarter, which pays not only for her dainty room but her well cooked dinner also, dinner being the only "formal" meat served at the residence hall. Her breakfast and luncheon she may either get at the cafeteria or prepare for herself in one of the kitchenettes, so that part of the additional expense depends entirely on herself.

COOPER TO DISCUSS "CASE OF FRANCE"

POSTPONED SERMON TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW

DEVELOPMENT ALARMING

Have Occurred In The Ruhr During Past Week—Will Discuss French Loan To Poland.

Having recovered from the infection from which he was suffering last week, the Rev. J. A. Cooper, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will give his sermon tomorrow night upon, "The Case of France." Last Sunday night Mr. Cooper spoke briefly upon the events leading up to the present situation, and sketched a background for his subject tomorrow night. In the course of his talk tomorrow night he will touch on the recent French loan of 400 million francs to Poland, while the press criticizes France for not even paying interest on the American loan. Mr. Cooper has written the following in regard to his talk tomorrow night:

Since the publication last week of the little Review of the postponed sermon on "The Case for France" the situation in the Ruar Valley has been steadily developing along disquieting if not alarming lines. The Germans maintain their attitude of passive resistance, with some isolated instances of actual opposition, while the French and Belgians have increased their pressure. The area of occupation has been extended, more and more functions of administration have been taken over by the newcomers, and increasingly is it becoming evident that the French and Belgians are in the Ruhr to stay until some practical developments which are not yet in sight.

It is will in any judgment of the French to keep in mind, that which is at least suggested above, that the French, in their attempt to secure reparations or a condition which will force Germany to some sort of terms, are receiving the actual assistance of Belgium, the other nation most concerned in the matter of war payments, and at least the passive sanction of Italy; in fact, keeping in mind the Continent, it may be said that France is acting with the approval, active or implied, of those nations which fought the Central Powers or which have come from the settlement involved in the Versailles Treaty. This would suggest that if France be wrong she is by no means alone in her course of action and furthur that perhaps the Continent has reason for its attitude towards the nation which is responsible for its present plight.

The attitude of the American public continues on the whole to be one of indifference and that of the press criticism if not condemnation. Not as news now but from the standpoint of comment one reads more of German suffering under French occupation than one read in 1914 of Belgian and French suffering under German ruthless invasion; more writers of editorials in newspapers and magazines feel moved to protest against the French and Belgian attitude and program than were stirred to voice a protest against the German eight and one-half years ago. The French and Belgian attempt to carry out the provisions of a treaty arouses more criticism than did the German action in 1914 in deliberately breaking a treaty.

In our sermon to-morrow night we shall attempt to suggest what this attitude of mind means, not merely to the future peace of the world but to that development of the idea and ideal of justice among nations upon which in large part the hope of peace seems to rest.

JONES OF TEXAS AND WINGO OF ARKANSAS MIX

LOOKED LIKE A RIOT

Washington, Feb. 17—A sensational scene was enacted upon the floor of the House this afternoon when Representative Otis Wingo, Democrat of Arkansas, and Representative Marvin Jones, Democrat, of Texas exchanged blows and created wild disorder in the legislative chamber. Wingo attacked Jones in a debate and a dozen other representatives entered the fray, and fists were flying in all directions in an attempt to separate the belligerents. No one was injured but the scene took on the appearance of a small sized riot.

While the two were wrestling in the center aisle, scores shouted for the sergeant-at-arms, who was nowhere to be seen. Above the noise of the fray the pounding for order by acting speaker, Representative McArthur, Republican of Oregon. Finally a dozen congressmen leaped into the fray and separated the two and made them be seated nearby. Wingo left the chamber and Jones apologized to the House for his conduct.

BRADLEY JURY STILL OUT AT PRESS TIME

REPORTED THEY STOOD 8 TO 3 THIS AFTERNOON

UNABLE TO GET VERDICT

Muriel Fite Was Given Two Years in Reform School this Morning in Court

The eleven jurymen in the case of the state against Ellis Bradley, Elmo boy charged with rape, was still out at press time this afternoon. At 2:50 o'clock this afternoon, the jury reported in court they were unable to agree, and L. E. Lyle, foreman of the jury, said they stood 8 on one side to 3 on the other side. No indication was given as to whether the eight men stood for acquittal or conviction, but there were rumors that the eight men were standing for acquittal.

A member of the jury, J. B. Rasnic, was sick today and was unable to eat anything at breakfast or dinner. It was reported he was lying down most of the time on a bed in the jury room. When the jury reported in court this afternoon they were unable to agree, Mr. Rasnic had on his overcoat.

Judge Dawson intimated he would not discharge the jury today unless they reached a verdict. If no verdict is reached by noon Sunday, it is thought the jury will be discharged at that time as Judge Dawson has to leave Sunday afternoon for Grant City.

The Bradley case went to the jury last evening and the jury went to work about 7:30 o'clock. At last evening's session it was reported the jury stood seven to four. The jury retired last night at 11:30 o'clock and resumed their deliberations this morning about 8:15 o'clock.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, the jury has been actually working on the case for ten hours and fifteen minutes.

Muriel Fite, 19 years old, entered a plea of guilty to grand larceny in circuit court this morning and was given a sentence of two years in the penitentiary which was commuted to two years in the reform school at Boonville. The sentence was commuted by the court as Fite's past life had been good and this was his first offense.

Fite was charged with stealing the Ramsey car at the county fair in Bedford, Ia., last August. This car was brought to Maryville and was found by the authorities in the barn on the Mrs. Ina Gray farm.

Pete Schriber, who was also arrested for the same offense as Fite, will be turned over to the Iowa authorities as he is wanted there for breaking his parole. Schriber has three years of a five-year sentence to serve at the penitentiary in Iowa. He was sentenced in Iowa on a charge of grand larceny.

Fite in an open statement to the court this morning stated Schriber had nothing to do with the stealing of the car. Fite also said and alleged that a former Maryville auto dealer had made a proposition to him that $200 would be given for either a stolen 1919 or 1920 Buick car.

AUTO CLUB $6,000 "IN THE RED" NOW

DEFICIT TO BE WIPED OUT BY THE 1923 DUES.

MANAGER GOT $23,000

Compensation of Manager Is Figured on Commission Basis—G. A. Pickens Member of Board.

According to a story in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the annual audit of the Automobile Club of Missouri, recently completed, shows a deficit of about $6,000 for last year, which will be made up by membership dues for 1923. It also shows that the membership has increased from 2,000 in May, 1920, to 25,041. A branch headquarters of the club was located in Maryville last year and several members were secured here. George A. Pickens, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was selected as a member of the board of governors of the state club.

The article in the Post-Dispatch follows:

The large increase in the membership resulted from efforts directed by William King, who quit the insurance business in 1920 to become general manager of the Automobile Club. The audit shows that King's compensation is on a commission basis depending upon the total number of members, and that in 1922 he received $23,000 for his services. This was $7,000 more than he received in 1921.

How Compensation Is Figured.

King's compensation is calculated at $1 per member per annum up to 20,000 members, and on a sliding scale beyond that figure. Figuring on this scale, 75,000 members would give him $50,000 a year; 95,000 members $60,000 and 125,000 members a salary of $70,000. He has a contract that has three years more to run and that is renewable at his own option, and he predicts that the club will have 100,000 members at the end of 1925.

"But I do not believe that I will exercise the option to renew my contract" King said today. "My plans are to enter a private business where I can earn some real money." King is 35 years old.

The club's income from dues of St. Louis members in 1922 was $185,960; from dues outside the city, $49,707, and miscellaneous income, including touring bureau revenue, amounted to $44,021, a total income of $240,088.77. The disbursements were $199,176.75 in St. Louis for service accounts, including promotion and administration, and $47,401 for service outside the city, a total of $246,577.75.

King's salary last year amounted to about 10 per cent of the total gross income of the club. Frederick H. Semple, treasurer and member of the Executive Board, declared that King was worth what he was being paid, and more, asserting that King was a genius in organization work and that he works indefatigably "nights and Sundays."

"We have had numerous complaints against Mr. King's salary," said Semple. "Two members resigned from the club when they heard of Mr. King's salary, but re-entered when it was shown that King was worth every cent of it. Others likewise have complained, but have been shown that King is a good investment. He has a legitimate contract which has been approved by the board of governors."

James T. Caradine is president of the club and the board of governors are: Paul Bakewell, Jr., L. Wade Childress, B. T. Clark, Herbert D. Condie, James F. Cook, Albert F. Epstein, James P. Hinton, Charles Hooper, Paul C. Hunt,

FRENCH TAKE GALZENKIRCHEN

A REPRISAL BECAUSE HUGE FINE IS NOT PAID

BRITISH-FRENCH PARLEY

Military Authorities Will Meet at Cologne to Discuss French Request of Britain

Essen, Feb. 17.—French troops today took Gelzenkirchen as a reprisal for its failure to pay the 100 million marks fine imposed by the French earlier in the week.

Gelzenkirchen is three miles northeast of Essen and contains the most important steel and iron works of Hugo Stinnes. It has been surrounded by French troops ever since the Ruhr occupation and patrols have passed through the town. It was fined following the shooting of two French soldiers after German police had been wounded.

The French authorities said they would stay in Gelzenkirchen until the fine was paid. Immediately after taking over the town they arrested the station master and imposed a military curfew upon the residents.

Paris, Feb. 17—French efforts to obtain the use of the railroads through the British military forces in occupation on the Rhine was taken out of the hands of the cabinet and turned to the military authorities on the Rhine, it was announced this afternoon.

After hearing the report of M. LeTrocquer, French minister of public works, upon the break-up of the Anglo French conference at London, the cabinet ordered General DeGoutte, commander of the French occupation army, and General Peyot to go to Cologne for a conference with General Godley, British commander, upon the possibility of expecting from the British a "working agreement" in the occupation work.

General Peyot had accompanied LeTrocquer to London to request of the British, permission for the movement of coal from the Ruhr and mine supplies through the occupied territory. The decision today indicated that the French would not appeal for permission to use the Cologne bridgehead except as a last resort.

Irish Rebels Try to Buy Guns from Russia

Charge Is Made Today by President Cosgrove—Irregular Rumors False, He Says.

Dublin, Feb. 17.—The Republican Irregulars are attempting to buy guns and ammunition from Soviet Russia to carry on warfare against the Irish Free State, Pres. F. S. Cosgrove of the Dail Eirmann charged today. The Free State officials would continue the conflict, he said, "regardless of the cost" unless the Republicans yield.

"The statement of the Republican Irregulars that we had made peace overtures is a deliberate falsehood," he declared. "The government's terms for reconciliation are clear; no others are entertained."

(The keystone of the Free State proposal was that the Republican Irregulars must surrender their arms before there could be an election to heal the rupture).

"The Irregular leaders have circulated deliberate falsehoods to blind their followers," he continued. "But the Free State government is determined to put down the rebellion regardless of cost. Let no man be deceived. Anyone that continues this unnatural warfare, let him be prepared to pay the penalty. There will be no meeting with De Valera or Lynch or any of the Irregular collegues. The guns and ammunition that they are trying to buy may add to the destruction but will not bring them any closer to victory. The decree of amnesty expires tomorrow."

LORIN PRICES STORE AT BROOKFIELD ROBBED TWICE

(Albany Capitol.)

Lorin Price, who has a clothing store at Brookfield, was the victim of two robberies recently. The first was committed a week ago Sunday and the other one took place last Sunday. The burglar realized $16 in change for each effort, nothing else in the store having been taken. Mr. Price has a four drawer cash register and it is his custom to leave four dollars in change in each drawer each night for change to use the next morning, which accounts for the same amount being taken each time. The Chamber of Commerce and the railroad detective co-operated with him in trying to catch the theif, and although no arrests have been made as yet, they have a pretty definite idea who the culprits are. Blood hounds were used after the second robbery and they led to a box car being used as a residence, but no one was there, and in searching the premises the railroad detective found other property that had been taken elsewhere. He told Mr. Price that he would look after the robbers, so arrests are expected to be made.

Lorin Price formerly lived in Maryville, having been a member of the Montgomery-Cummins Clothing Co.

Electric to Show "A Week of Love."

"One Week of Love," is the name of the feature picture announced at the Electric Theatre for next Tuesday and Wednesday. Myron Selznick has shown his best ability in producing this picture.

Here are the ingredients that make the picture one of unusual appeal: A twin-starring combination, Elaine Hammerstein and Conway Tearle, playing together for the first time; a story by Edward J. Montagne that one may call really "big without blushing in embarrassment; direction by George Archainbaud that fulfills all former promises made by this imaginative Frenchman; and a supporting cast that is not dwarfed even by the full-power starring combination.

The story concerns a society girl who suddenly tires of the earth and worldly pleasures and decides to take a jaunt in an aeroplane. Unfortunately, she flies in the same spirit that she dances; when her plane accidentally come down to earth, a lot of her high-falutin' notions come down with her. She lands right in a nest of outlaws, the chief of whom is a sort of Captain Kidd of the mountains.

From this point on the story is conclusively and totally absorbing so that one wishes for an extra eye to view all the goings-on. The girl, far from being a mechanical doll that does as it is told, evinces a spirit that is at once audacious and courageous. Nevertheless, she has a battle and a half on her hands trying to ward off this God's-Country Sheik. To give away the story before it has received the key to our city would be doing it a great injustice. We can only say that it is splendid example of the motion picture at its best and is its own excuse for being.

Highways and Religion Is Subject of Contest

High School Students of Nation Invited to Enter Competition for Fourth Consecutive Year.

"Are good highways helps or handicaps to the church and the religious life of a community?"

This is the question raised in an editorial appearing in the February 17 issue of the Christian Herald, announcing the fourth annual good roads essay contest conducted by the Highway Education Board.

The contest, says this publication, brings up for thought one of the big problems that affect not only the rural but the urban churches.

Comment from religious leaders everywhere indicate that the subject is going to be one of the livest concern, not only to church members and the pulpit, but to the laymen interested in the economics of highway transport and good roads.

The Christian Herald in its editorial says:

"The Highway Education Board has conducted annually for the last four years an essay contest on some subject affected by good roads.

"In 1922 the subject was 'How Good Roads are Developing My Community.'

This year the topic is 'The Influence of Highway Transport upon the Religious Life of My Community.'

"The prize is the H. S. Firestone University Scholarship which is valued at not less than $4,000 and is intended to defray tuition and all other reasonable expenses for a course at any college or university the successful contestant elects to attend.

"This scholarship is one of the most coveted educational awards offered in the United States.

"The Christian Herald is delighted to call attention to this year's contest because it brings up for thought one of the big problems that affect not only the rural but the urban churches. Are good highways helps or handicaps to the church and the religious life of a community?

"The contest is conducted in each state with the cooperation of the extension department of the leading state university or the state department of public instruction. Many of these institutions add state prizes or awards in the shape of loving cups, gold medals or tuition scholarships of state honors. Here are the conditions in brief:

"LENGTH: Essay not to exceed 700 words.

"ELIGIBLE: All students of High School grade.

"CLOSING Date: Not later than May 1, 1923.

"Essays must be written on one side of the paper only. Each manuscript must bear the name, school, and home address of the writer in the upper left-hand corner of the first page.

"Each contestant should present his or her essay to the school principal or designated teacher with the request that it be entered in the National Good Roads Essay Contest.

"The superintendent, principal or teacher of each school will have charge of the grading of the school essays.

"The best three essays from each high school will be forwarded to the state organization under postmark not later than May 26, 1923. In most instances this organization will be the Extension Department of the state university.

"The scholarship will be awarded by a national committee to be appointed by the United States Commissioner of Education.

"All correspondence in regard to the contest should be addressed to the Highway Education Board, Willard Building, Washington, D. C."

K. C. "Bubble" Author Is Released Today

Woman, Whose Alleged Operations Rivalled Ponzi's, Has Her Charges Dismissed

Kansas City, Feb. 17—The final chapter of an alleged fraud and scheme that rivalled the manipulations of Ponzi, was written in criminal court today when the charges against Mrs. Emma Trainin were dismissed. The dismissal of the charges was the result of the failure of the prosecuting attorney to bring her to trial within the four terms of court following her arrest, and according to the Missouri law she becomes acquitted.

Mrs. Amanda Samis, who was jointly indicted with Mrs. Trainin, is now serving a sentence in the Missouri penitentiary following her conviction. It is believed that her parole will be recommended in view of the action taken in the Trainin case.

The two were alleged to have operated a scheme which swindled scores of Kansas Citians three years ago. According to the charges against them, they secured loans on promises of investing the money and the repayment of huge interest profits. The "bubble" burst when it was found that the money had been spent instead of invested.

High School Fives Split With Trenton

Boys' Team Walks Over Trenton 39 to 9 Last Night—Girls Lose 16 to 18

The High School boys and girls split a twinbill with the Trenton High School at Trenton last night. It was split the same way as the double header with Trenton here was divided. The local boys won their game by the one-sided score of 39 to 9, and Miss Nash's protege's lost out by the close score of 16 to 18.

Lawrence's machine completely outclassed the Trenton five. Short passes were used by both teams in a game that savored much of roughness, many fouls being committed that were not called. Hamilton and H. Davis of Trenton were put out on account of personal fouls.

Bill Fannon, the lanky center for Maryville and H. Davis of Trenton were the individual stars of the boys' game.

The girls' game was a battle all the way. But the floor was slippery and a small court, hampered both teams and especially the visiting girls. When the final whistle blew the Trenton lassies were in the lead by a scant two points. Dow of Maryville and Todd, forward for Trenton, were the outstanding stars. Mrs. "Lefty" Davis, wife of the Cameron coach, refereed the girl's game and Forrest Brown of Gallatin worked the boy's game. About twenty-five rooters from Maryville were present at the game.

W. F. Kayser, Charles M. Knapp, E. J. Krause, George A. Pickens, Russell E. Lortz, E. E. E. McJimsey, George C. Mackay, Forrest Martin, C. B. Nicholson, R. B. Oliver, Jr., Walter H. Petring, Frank F. Rozzelle, Frank R. Tate.

King went to the Automobile Club Nov. 15, 1920.

"In May, 1920, the Automobile Club had a paid membership of about 2,000 members living in St. Louis," King said. "There was no state organization. The club now has 25,000 members, operating through twelve division officers, at St. Louis, Hannibal, Cape Girardeau, Moberly, Jefferson City, Sedalia, Chillicothe, Maryville, Springfield, Joplin, Kansas City and Rolla.

Services of the Club.

"Services of the club in 1920 consisted briefly of legislative, good roads and antitheft work, together with a touring service. The general services appealed to only a limited number of mctorists and the board of governors set about to secure a more representative group of members.

"They gave personal service, consisting of the most accurate touring information available, compiled through actual road experience procured by scout cars that covered 65,000 miles in 1922. The bureau also served 68,000 motorists last year, who brought into St. Louis and Missouri millions of dollars in revenue.

"Perhaps the greatest achievement of the club is the development of its emergency road service department, through which, at any hour of day or night, the club is ready to start a member's car or tow it to the nearest official garage. There are today in Missouri under bond and contract about 300 such garages, and one may be found located within 30 minutes' drive of any point in the state. These garages, in 1922, handled 49,059 calls.

"The club has a legal aid department that served 3672 members last year, in many cases going into court, and we have developed a magazine that is known throughout the country as the only publication of its kind that shows a profit. We forward cars to any part of the country at a saving of $23 to $200 per car to the shipper; secure licenses for members, and cover a wide range of miscellaneous activities.

"We had a slight deficit at the end of 1921, and an increase in demands for service that jumped from 24,227 calls in 1921 to 49,050 in 1922 necessitated additional revenue and the membership fee was increased from $10 to $12 a year, with no classifications.

"The Chicago Motor Club charges $15 a year and a deposit of $1 for an emblem, which our club gives without a deposit. The Automobile Club of Southern California has an initiation fee of $5, membership dues of $12 and a deposit for the emblem. We have no initiation fee, and each year are extending our service. We are now the third largest automobile club in the world and soon will rank second."

Semple and others connected with the club pointed to the foregoing achievements as largely due to King's ability.

Drive for Religious Funds to Be Tomorrow

Roll Call Drive for Sunday School Religious Work Sunday Afternoon

The plansfor the roll call drive for the work of the Sunday schools of Polk Township are complete and at 1:30 p. m., tomorrow afternoon the twenty six teams that are to canvass in the twenty six districts of Maryville will meet at the M. E. South, Church on Buchanan Street and will start from there and will report back to the study after their work is done.

The feeling seems to be that this is one of the best works that can be done for the young folks of this district and every one wants a part in it. So if these solicitors should happen to miss any one, they can report to the council rooms over Hotchkins' store in the Mutz building either in person or over the phone, or to Miss Eva. M. Davis, general secretary. Those in charge think that it is going to be a big thing for the Religious Education of the children of this district.
